Chapter 21: The Color Red

Ah...
I'll see you now.

Scoring one of them,
being beckoned and then whirled away, and then longing
for you to come,
waiting like on slot.

Scoring one of
many, and then being
forgotten.
I'd rather not...

Even though you are
hondome, and someone
with possess a lot of power,

I prefer our relationship to be more like this.

Did I say something wrong?

Kao-Yin, you're always so uncooperative. Although you're very interesting, and make me feel relaxed, however...

As I watch watched him smile, I realize realized something. The one who conquered the six countries and created the first empire in China...

Even beneath his clothes and mask, I'm sure there's the heart
of a common person.

But I'm pretty lucky too. If I had met him after he conquered the six countries, I'm sure Ying Zheng would've been very different.

It's getting late. I should be going back, going back to my own time.

Xiao Zhang, our encounter was one that was a fatal coincidence.
I'm very glad I could've met you.

Be careful in the future, and may your reign be one without an end.
